Eaton Among India's "Best Companies To Work For"

Eaton has been named among India's Best Companies To Work For in 2012 in a study conducted by the Great Place to Work® Institute in India in partnership with The Economic Times. Eaton ranked second in the automotive components industry.

The Great Place to Work® Institute highlighted that Eaton employees in India trust the people they work for, have pride in what they do and enjoy the company of people they work with. The survey team was also very impressed with several Eaton practices discovered in the Culture Audit© that they conducted.

Eaton's recognition was announced in a special awards ceremony on July 13, in Mumbai, and later published in the "India's Best Companies To Work For 2012" special supplement of The Economic Times on the July 16. Eaton was one of 65 companies that were named among the best in their respective categories across 22 industries along with the two groups of Top 50 winners – companies with up to 1,000 employees and those with more than 1,000 employees. Eaton garnered second place in the automotive components industry.

Commenting on the recognition, Raja Kochar, Eaton's managing director – India, said, "Our commitment to ethics, values and sustainability initiatives contributed to the trust and pride criteria of the study." Kochar added that "We have been successful in implementing Eaton's globally acknowledged people policies and practices across our operations in India. However, we have a long way to go. With our effort on continuous improvement across operations, services and corporate, we will strive to make Eaton one of the Top 50 Best Companies To Work For in the country."
